

Advanced Dialogues – “Glasses”

Nancy: I love your glasses!

Juana: Thanks. They're brand new.

Nancy: You look great. They're very flattering.

Juana: Thank you.

Nancy: Can I try them on?

Juana: Sure. Go ahead, try them on.

Nancy: Thanks. Now I need a mirror.

Juana: Okay, I have a little one in my purse.

Nancy: Oh! I feel dizzy! It must be the glasses!

Juana: Take a look at yourself.

Nancy: I look terrible!

Juana: Don't be silly. You look cute in them.

Nancy: I look all blurry!

Juana: That's because the glasses are my prescription, not yours.

Nancy: Oh, so that explains why you didn't look blurry to me when you had them on.

Juana: You're not serious, are you?

Nancy: Why do you say that?

Juana: You weren't wearing my glasses when you looked at me!

Nancy: Oh! That's' right! You were wearing them!

Juana: Umm, yeah.

Nancy: And you looked great in them!

Juana: Hehe, thank you.
